

COUNTY-WIDE CELEBRATION FOR HOME-COMING SOLDIERS IS TO BE IN CONNELLVILLE

Uniontown Gives Up Its Plan for Separate Observance and Expresses a Desire to Join With This City; Proposal is Accepted at Meeting of Business Men This Morning.

JOINT DISCUSSION AT MEETING NEXT THURSDAY

The county wide celebration to be held for the soldiers of Fayette county who have honored this county on the battlefield will be held in Connellsville. Uniontown has conceded that this city has the proper claim to the reception and has agreed to enter wholeheartedly with Connellsville in giving such a celebration.

At a meeting of the committee which is starting the celebration in Connellsville, held this morning in the city hall, it was voted to make the local reception county wide and to invite every district in.

A committee of seven men was appointed to go to Uniontown next Tuesday, if that date is satisfactory to the Uniontown committee, to confer on the plans for spreading out the celebration plans to cover every district. It is not the intention of the local men to have Connellsville and Uniontown monopolize the thing, but an effort will be made to give everyone and every district an equal share in putting on the gala day.

The work which will have to be done, however, will fall on Connellsville men and it is felt that these men should be on the executive committee. It is to discuss and thresh out these matters that the meeting will be held in Uniontown next week. After the meeting in Uniontown on Tuesday another meeting of Connellsville men will be held here Thursday. Everyone interested in the celebration to honor the boys is invited to attend the meeting, which is called for 10 o'clock.

The proposition of Uniontown to enter with Connellsville in a county-wide celebration to be held in this city came as a complete surprise. Last week Connellsville refused to go along with Uniontown in a celebration there, believing one for Connellsville alone should be held.

There was some opinion expressed this morning that Uniontown was making a mistake in going into a county celebration to be held here, several adhering to the individual reception to be held in the different communities.

W. D. McGinnis took the floor and moved that Uniontown's offer be accepted at face value. "I think it is offered in good faith," said Mr. McGinnis. S. Desmons said the offer should be accepted and complied with. It was unanimously voted that the county celebration be held here.

M. B. Pryce, chairman, appointed the following committee to meet with Uniontown's committee next Tuesday: W. D. McGinnis, E. T. Norton, J. L. Evans, John Duggan, S. Desmons, G. W. Campbell and M. B. Pryce. The trip to Uniontown will be made by automobile, leaving here at 2 o'clock.

No local committees to go ahead with any further plans were appointed. These will be held over until after Tuesday's conference, when the scope of the celebration will be broadened.

The letter from Uniontown, suggesting that the celebration be held here was signed by Judge E. H. Reppert, chairman; John D. Carr, mayor; C. E. Lenhart, Harry Whyte, Joseph Rosenbaum, R. M. Fry, John Lynch and W. Hamilton Spence.

The letter follows: "Dear Mr. Pryce: "January 25, last, Mayor John D. Carr of this city appointed a committee empowered to cooperate with committees from other municipalities in organizing a reception for our returning soldiers. The purpose was to make the occasion of their homecoming a time for expressing to them, in some organized and adequate way our pride in them and our gratitude for the honorable and distinguished service they have rendered to liberty and freedom. So far as we are aware, prior to Mayor Carr's action, no like movement had been started within the county.

"The first meeting of our committee was held Monday afternoon, February 10. The only subject upon which there was a decided expression of opinion at this meeting was that the demonstration should be county-wide. In all our drives in behalf of the relief and welfare work, for the War Chest and for the Liberty Loans, the people of the county have put themselves behind their young men in the service as a unit. It seemed to us highly fitting that in the welcome home like unanimity should be displayed. No serious objection was given to the place or character of the celebration. This would be determined as the organization and plans were developed, after conference with committees representing other communities and would depend upon the judgment and wish of those interested. The first thing to be done was, if possible, to get the people united in the common purpose. To that end our mayor and two of our members were asked to go to Connellsville and take the matter up with Mayor Duggan, our first thought naturally being of our sister city. We had no other idea in sending them and they had no other idea in going than to enlist your cooperation, participation and support in a county-wide celebration, recognizing no one section more than another. We would give due honor to those who had honored us and full credit to the county from which they had gone.

"We believe this to be the spirit that, in equal measure, animates you and your people. We assure you there is not the slightest desire on our part to dictate the plans or the place of the celebration. These are secondary. The vital thing is that it should be worthy of the occasion extended in behalf of all our people.

"Not unnaturally we hoped that Uniontown might receive some consideration as to location but that does not enter as far as recognizing the substantial claims of Connellsville to it."

SEVEN MURDERS FOR TRIAL AT MARCH COURT

Most Interesting Case Is That of Couple at Herbert Works.

VICTIM IN THEIR WAY

They Wanted to Marry and Chose Crime as the Medium by Which to Achieve End; Second Case Involves Florence Mines Man and Poker Game

Seven murder trials during the five weeks of the March term of court in Uniontown have been placed on the trial docket by District Attorney S. John Morrow. Six of the killings have been committed since August 21, 1918.

Perhaps the greatest interest centers on the case in which John Selank and Mrs. Pauline Martella are charged with the murder of the latter's husband, Nicholas Martella, at Herbert Works. It is alleged that the couple murdered Martella to get him out of the way so they could marry. The body of the murdered man was found in an outhouse with a portion of the dress of the Martella infant jammed in his mouth and a string tied tightly around his neck. Officers stated that Selank has confessed.

The second case on the docket is that of a First Grade of Placed mines is charged with the killing of Wade P. Herod on the night of November 10 last. The trouble is alleged to have started over a poker game started in a pig pen. Herod, a friend of Griffin and a spectator, was killed when Griffin attempted to shoot another man in a dispute over a quarter. Frank Amerotto of Belle Vernon will be arraigned on the charge of having slain Tony Gula at the Belle Vernon glass house on November 7. The quarrel, which resulted fatally, is said to have been over a woman, not retained.

Arthur Williams of Isabella is charged with having murdered Mary Lou Brown, when she intervened in the quarrel between himself and his wife. The commonwealth will contend that when Miss Brown intervened for the wife, Williams struck her, knocking her down and fracturing her skull. The trouble occurred November 20.

W. P. Johnson of Dunbar is accused of killing J. H. Johnson, no relation, in an argument which occurred at Dunbar on November 12. The victim was struck on the head with a blunt instrument, later dying in the Cottage State hospital in Connellsville.

Ralph Tate, the proprietor of a taxi-cab line at McClellandtown, will be called upon to answer to the charges of slaying Roman Bustic, when he and three other men attacked Tate, following a dispute over a taxi bill. The men refused to pay the sum charged them by Tate's son and when the father was consulted, later dying in the Cottage State hospital in Connellsville.

CONDITION OF PREMIER SAID TO BE SERIOUS

Clemenceau Badly Wounded, Secretary is Quoted By Paper As Saying.

X-RAY PICTURE IS TAKEN

Official Reports Indicate That Anarchist, Shot by French, Will Recover; Premier Expresses Belief He Will Be Back at His Post Soon.

By Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 20.—"The premier certainly is seriously hurt. His condition is as satisfactory as possible," Georges Mandel, Premier Clemenceau's chief clerk is quoted as saying today in an early hour this morning. The quotation is attributed to the clerk by Marcel Halin in the Echo de Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 20 (9:26 A. M.)—An X-ray examination of Premier Clemenceau's wound has just been taken for development. A bulletin on the examination is expected to be issued late in the day.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—Premier Clemenceau, who was wounded in the shoulder yesterday in the attempt by the young anarchist, Emilio Cottin, to assassinate him, was in a satisfactory condition this morning, according to the latest reports. No fever has developed.

Personally Premier Clemenceau is impatient to resume his place at the head of the peace conference. As he refers to the subject in his conversations with those around him he gives the impression of believing that he will be taking his chair at the sitting again in four or five days, for he keeps repeating, "It is nothing." None the less his wound occasionally gives him much pain. The premier's mind never was clearer nor his thoughts more rapid. He dismisses his wounds and his symptoms technically just as if they were those of another person. It was stated at Premier Clemenceau's residence at 630 this morning that the premier had passed an excellent night.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—Emile Cottin, who attempted to assassinate Premier Clemenceau, was taken to Sainte prison last night. An examination of the automobile in which the premier was riding when he was fired upon showed seven distinct bullet marks.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The peace conference at Paris has decided to adjourn as a result of the attack upon Premier Clemenceau, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris this morning. There will be no session of the conference today, the message adds.

Bible Class Meeting. SCOTTSDALE, Feb. 20.—The Young Ladies' Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet Friday evening at the church instead of at the home of Miss Jessie Brown.

J. C. MOORE DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS VANDERBILT HOME

White Not in the Best of Health Crisis Did Not Come Until Last Night; Expired This Morning.

James C. Moore, 59 years old, a prominent coal operator and a resident of Vanderbilt for many years, died this morning at 5:20 o'clock at his home following a brief illness. Mr. Moore had been ailing for the past month. However, he was able to be about as usual and his condition did not become alarming until about 11 o'clock last night just after he had come into the kitchen for a drink of water. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of his death.

Mr. Moore was born on a farm in Dunbar township, October 30, 1859, a son of James and Sarah Herbert Moore. His paternal grandfather, Amos Moore, was a native of Massachusetts, coming at an early age to Fayette county where he died. James C. Moore was reared on a farm and educated in the common schools of Dunbar township. At the age of 21 years he commenced work on his own account, in the coal mines, for some years as a common laborer, and for 12 years was a mining boss. He held a certificate of service, granted November 1885, which constituted him mining boss for James Cochran's Sons & Company, Vanderbilt. He also held a certificate of competency as a mining boss for any drift bituminous coal mine in the state of Pennsylvania, granted him a short time afterwards. Mr. Moore was owner of the New Geneva Coal & Fuel company of New Geneva, was interested in the Hecla Coke company, Pittsburgh, and had extensive coal holdings in West Virginia. Of late years he had lived retired and his coal works at New Geneva were operated by his sons, Robert E. and Nelson Moore.

December 26, 1872, Mr. Moore was married to Sarah A. Strickler, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strickler of Lower Tyrone township. In addition to his widow he is survived by four sons, George Moore, who recently was honorably discharged from the army; Philip C. Moore of Pittsburgh; Robert E. and Nelson Moore of New Geneva; and two daughters, Miss Grace Moore at home, and Miss Marie Moore, who with her aunt, Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran of St. James Park, and a party of tourists is en route to California, and will not be able to arrive home in time for the funeral. The deceased is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran, St. James Park; Mrs. N. A. Rish, Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. W. J. Lowmister, Norfolk, Mass.; and two brothers, W. H. Moore of Dawson, and H. B. Moore of St. James Park. Mr. Moore was a member of the Christian church at Vanderbilt and for a number of years was a deacon in the church. He was also a member of the Royal Arcanum, the Knights of Pythias, the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, and had passed all of the chairs of the Mystic Chain and Knights of Pythias. Mr. Moore was highly esteemed by all who knew him and in his death Vanderbilt has lost one of its most widely known citizens.

Charged with being implicated in the robbery of the safe of J. L. Stader several weeks ago, Charles (Pete) Oakley was arrested last night and is being held for investigation. The discovery of two gold watches which were stolen from the Stader office led to the arrest.

Oakley denies that he had anything to do with the robbery, saying he had been keeping the watches for "another fellow." A total of $161 was found on him which he declares is his own. A gold dollar and three smaller gold pieces were also found on Oakley.

In addition to the two gold watches, there was also taken from the Stader safe $750 in Liberty bonds, some gold money, a gold watch chain and a silver watch chain. A large diamond in one of the recovered watches had been removed.

Bert Stillwagon, on his way to work yesterday morning, found a pocketbook and a pair of bare knuckles beneath one of the iron gratings on South Meadow lane. He called J. R. Kuritz, who went down and got it from the basement window. Nothing was in the pocketbook, however, and the supposition is that someone had stolen it and being afraid of having it and the knuckles found on him, had thrown them away.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it is done so naturally so easily. Prepare this mixture, though, at home as it is so simple and at little cost. You can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. Gray faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

YOU CAN MAKE YOUR SHOE BILLS LESS

From Globe Arizona, comes this recommendation of Neolin Soles. J. B. Medlyn sends it. He says: "I have never had my Neolin soled shoes repaired as the soles always outwear the tops. The position I hold keeps me on my feet most of the time, and I can say that for comfort and wear Neolin is the only shoe sole."

Millions of others who have worn Neolin Soles think with Mr. Medlyn that they are the only soles for wear and comfort. Moreover these soles cut your shoe bills down because they make your shoes last so long. They are waterproof too. Neolin Soles are made scientifically by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feed young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, perfecting the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

COUNTY CELEBRATION IN CONNELLSVILLE

Appreciating the justice of Conneltsville's claims and knowing the splendid devotion and efficiency of the men and women of your city as displayed in all the patriotic enterprises of the war, we suggest that the proposed celebration embracing the whole county, be held in your city at such time and in such manner and under such auspices as your committee may determine. Moved solely by a desire to see realized in this event what it really can be made a landmark in the history of Fayette county worthy of the great epoch of which it will be a part we tender our fullest cooperation and support in every service in which they may be desired.

"Where are my reading glasses?"

Mischievous daughter has picked Daddy's pocket and watches him gleefully as he searches in vain for his reading glasses.

If Daddy wore Kryptok Glasses, he would be freed from the "off-and-on" nuisance of the two pairs-of-glasses bother, because Kryptoks (pronounced Crip-toks) would give him, in one pair of glasses, the necessary correction for both reading and distance.

KRYPTOK GLASSES

They are crystal-clear—their surfaces smooth and even. They cannot be distinguished from single-vision lenses. That's why Kryptoks are called "the invisible bifocals."

THE MAYOR MUST ACT.

With the increasing number of holders and the boldness of the perpetrators, this point has been reached when it is the imperative duty of Mayor

Snyder to take action that will put a stop to the business of assaulting and robbing citizens and foreigners.

First, there should be a different order of the hours for the police. The larger number are on duty during the hours when the high-waymen operate. Second, there should be a detail of plain-clothes men, and a such number as will make it a very adequate force—assigned to duty

in different sections of the city with instructions to round up every suspicious character. Parties arrested should not be merely fined and let loose, but committed to jail in every instance where the character of the offense warrants such action by the mayor.

There are plenty of able-bodied and courageous men from which to select plain-clothes squad. Under the police code the mayor has full authority to make any temporary

addition to the police force the needs

may require. To do so will cost money, of course, but the taxpayers

of the city have the job and proper

right to demand protection and they will not object to paying the cost if such protection be made effective. If it is not provided, and the crime wave

continues unchecked, some individual will become a victim of the thugs sometimes these nights who will bring the city authorities to a realization of the fact that it has certain responsibilities

it cannot escape.

The mayor needs to show some of the ginger and pep that one of the councilmen has demonstrated by immediately taking whatever step may be necessary to make our city a safe place for citizens and strangers who are here on legitimate business.

COMBATING BOLSHIEVISM.

While the employment of vigorous measures, like deportation, will be the best way to handle the more violent type of radicals who are seeking to implant certain forms of Bolshevism

in America, other means must be employed to counteract or prevent the spread of the pernicious doctrine in this revolutionary cult.

With this end in view Governor

Spruiell has under consideration a plan for the creation of what might be termed a committee on public welfare,

the function of which will be to consider treason and violence in whatever forms they may appear. The new body is to be patterned after the Pen-

sylvania Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety which wily agitators to become adherents of any form of radicalism or anarchy.

Through this means it is hoped to prevent the recruiting of new converts

to the most dangerous of all revolutionary doctrines while stronger methods will be applied in dealing with those who attempt to introduce the practices of Bolshevism in this country. The efficiency of the agency that is to be created for these purposes

will be largely dependent upon the loyal support and cooperation of all good citizens, just as the defense

council was made a great power during the days of the war. Such support and cooperation must be given if we are to rid our country of the greatest menace to its internal peace by which we have ever been confronted.

The decision of the court that in permitting a child to have possession of five arms parents have equal responsibility to a merchant who sells ammunition to youngsters, is good law

and good sense, better, some than

some parents and some merchants

sometimes display.

"Good morning! Who were you held up last night?" promises to be a common form of salutation.

The Jamaica interests have effected

a peaceful penetration of the Fayette district of the coke region. Sort of a prelude to the penetration of the head of this important interest will make when elected to Congress on March 4.

Better place a red circle around

March 25 and 27 and May 15 and 17 on your calendar, these being dates upon which we will begin to raise money to put on the Biggest Day the city will ever know, and all in honor of "The Boys."

Women Have Made Good.

Good Housekeeping.

The war has liberated women from sex thrallidom. They have found that men have done few things that they can not do as well. They are everywhere conscious of a change in their relations to the body politic, a change

which has nothing to do with their registered, or not registered, political opinion. They have made good as human beings; they have made man-

dant their duties and they have done

this without slighting their duties as women. There has been more home-

keeping in America since America went into the war than there was in all the decade preceding. Women have merely worked instead of playing. They have released their energies in useful channels rather than in adventures

after pleasure—and have found that happiness is a state of mind and not a condition. Their hearts, their imagination, were captured by the need for them, by the knowledge that without them their world would be broken up in chaos, and they responded to every call.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent. or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent. or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of the infant deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, sweetmeats and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to pneumonia, cholera, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Dr. J. C. Feltner, as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Give your baby Castoria always bears the signature of Dr. J. C. Feltner

MT. ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain.
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial Acids are not needed in such cases and may do real harm.

Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck's Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck's Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

STEEL PRODUCTION IS AT RATE OF 70 PER CENT OF CAPACITY

With Slight Exceptions Finished Product Prices Are Firmly Held; Current Buying Extremely Light.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trades tomorrow as follows:

Steel production is running at the rate of about 70 per cent of capacity, comparing with the average rate of 85 per cent in January shown by the monthly report of the American Iron & Steel Institute. The United States Steel Corporation of the whole is operating at a better rate than the independents, and in some of its departments is better provided with orders than independents. Some of the corporation's subsidiaries are building up stocks, while other subsidiaries are strictly avoiding any such operation. The tin plate department

THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL DISEASES

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Danger is in sight.

Find out what the trouble is—without delay! Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pain in the back, wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. There are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing poisons to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

has been operating since the first of last week at within a fraction of one per cent of 100 per cent, and in proportion to rate of operation has smaller stocks than on November 1. Some of the independent tin plate mills, however, are operating at less than 50 per cent.

Finished steel prices are firmly held, exceptions to the rule, if any, being of trifling character. Nothing has occurred to substantiate recent rumors that market declines would occur in the near future, and the older prediction holds good, that producers will be disposed to reduce prices April 1, following the quarterly interval practice established by the War Industries Board. As producers are not permitted to agree upon prices, any market declines that occur will be through some individual producer taking the lead and others following. Sentiment has developed among producers that if another price reduction is to be made it should be one of striking character, sufficient to prevent buyers from looking for further declines.

Current buying of pig iron and steel products is extremely light and shows no tendency towards improvement, while old orders are running out. Spring is expected to bring some improvement in demand, but no really heavy buying is looked for until summer is passed.

Some declining tendency is noticed in wages, as a result of unemployment while labor performance is greatly improved. At three merchant blast furnaces in the Shenango Valley overtime payment has been abolished without creating dissatisfaction.

GREAT FOR ECZEMA AND OLD SORES

I Guarantee My Ointment Says Peterson.

"If you are responsible for the health of your family," says Peterson, of Buffalo, "I want you to get a large 25 cent box of Peterson's Ointment today."

"Remember, I stand back of every box. Every druggist guarantees to refund the purchase price if Peterson's Ointment doesn't do all I claim."

"I guarantee it for eczema, old sores, running sores, salt rheum, ulcers, sore nipples, broken breasts, itching skin, skin diseases, blind, bleeding and itching piles as well as for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises and sunburn."

"I had 30 running sores on my leg for 11 years, was in three different hospitals. Amputation was advised. Skin grafting was tried. I was cured by using Peterson's Ointment."—Mrs. F. E. Root, 287 Michigan Street, Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

RAILROADS CURTAILING OPERATING FORCES TO MEET SLUMP IN TRADE

Other Departments Feeling Effects of Orders for Retrenchment; Even the Truck Forces are Being Cut.

The shrinkage in the coal, coke, steel and kindred trade operations through Western Pennsylvania is reflected in the sharp curtailment in operating forces on the railroads. In all departments men by the hundreds are being dismissed. In the train service, crews are being taken off at all the terminals. All the "special duty" men have been put back on their old jobs, this move causing the same number of men they replace to be laid off. In the repair shops men are being dismissed in large numbers. Even the track forces are being cut.

In the Conneltsville yards of the Baltimore & Ohio, at Youngwood and Derry on the Pennsylvania, Dickerson Run on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and at West Brownsville on the Monongahela a number of crews have been laid off at intervals. In addition the yard crews have suffered more or less reduction.

This cutting down of forces has started what railroad trainmen term a "bumping match." When the men laid off are "regular" men they have, under the rules of seniority, the privilege of "bumping" any other trainmen not so old as they are in the service, and taking his run. The man bumped in turn bumps another man younger than himself until finally back on the extra list, which in this augmented by a large number of men, and some have to be laid off.

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that so called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and that the best only give temporary relief. This is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise act on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, although taken internally, is not digested in the stomach, but is rapidly absorbed and unchanged to the intestines in a short time, reaching the exact place where by its soothing, healing action, it first cures all inflammation and then by direct contact with all ulcers and piles, causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days at most, even in cases of chronic piles. Bleeding that has resisted all known treatments and operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The author of this amazing discovery desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy effectively conquers even in the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. For pain by the itching piles, use Miro Pile Remedy.

Yet, how could he help throwing his life into his work? He had committed himself; it was an obligation. If it were not for that indefinable something, his allegiance to the cause which he knew—he had tilted with Gerry and been worsted—he would have resigned from his company, his company which had dishonored him. Why should he stay to get more stabs, more wounds? And the last blow, this pot of Marshall's! Hardin gave a scathing in his path a vicious kick.

The girl's prattle had died. She walked with him silently.

At the door of her tent, she stopped, looking at him wistfully. She wished he could hide his hurt. If he had only some of Innes' pride!

Nothing Had Been Forgotten.

"Now are things?" She used their food little formula.

"Oh, rotten!" growled Hardin, flinging away. The gate slammed behind him.

CHAPTER VIII.

Under the Vener.

An hour later Innes, blinking from the sun, stepped into the tent, which had been partitioned with rough redwood boards into a bed chamber on the right, a combination dining room and "bar" on the left. Her glance immediately segregated the three stalks of pink geraniums in the center of the Mexican drawn-work cloth that covered the table. Gerry, herself, in a fresh pink plumed frock, was dancing around the table to the tune of forks and spoons. It was just like Gerry to dress up for her setting, even though it were only a pitiful water-stained banquet. She had often tried to analyze her sister-in-law's hold on her brother; certainly they were not happy. Was it because she made him comfortable because she made him comfortable? Was it the little air of formality, or mystery, which she drew around her? Her rooms when Innes was allowed to enter them were always flawless; Gerry took deep pride in her housekeeping. Why was it, Innes wondered, that she could never shake off her suspicion of an underlying untidiness? There was always a closed door on Gerry's processes.

"May I help?" The sun was still yellowing the room to her.

"Hello!" Hardin looked up from the couch where he was lying. Innes suspected it of being a frequent retreat. She had found it tumbled once when she ran over early. It was then that Gerry made it understood that she liked more formality. Innes was rarely in that tent except for meals, now or during her alternating week of house chores.

"I was afraid I was late," said the girl.

"Lunch will be ready in a few minutes," announced Gerry. "Won't you sit down? There's the new Journal. Sam came to clean this morning, and I couldn't get to the lunch until an hour ago."

Innes, settling herself by the reading table, caught herself observing that it would not have taken her an hour to get a cold lunch. Still, it would never look so inviting! If Gerry's domestic machinery was complicated and private, the results always were peopled as well as skilled, and were lying on a bed of cracked ice. The ripe black olives were resting in a lake of California olive oil. A bowl of crisp lettuce had been leech and carefully dried. The bread was cut in precise triangles; the butter had been shaved into foreign-looking rows. A pitcher of the valley's favorite beverage, iced tea, stood by Hardin's plate. There was a platter of cold meats.

It came home to Innes for the hundredth time, the surprise of such a meal in that desert. A few years ago, what had a meal been? She threw the credit of the little lunch to sulky Tom Hardin lying on the portiere-covered couch, his ugly lower lip protruding against an unsmiling vision. It was Tom, Tom and his brave men, the sturdy engineers, the damnable surveyors, the Indians who had dug the canals, those were the ones who had spread that pretty table, not the burton little woman darting about in pink gingham. "Is it because I don't like her?" she mused, her eyes on the pictures in the style book which had just come in that morning. Certainly Gerry did have the patience of a saint with Tom's humors. If she would only lose that set look of martyrdom! It was not for an outsider to judge between a husband and wife, even if the man were her own brother. She could not put her finger on the germ of their painful scenes; she shrank from the recollection of Tom's temper; his coarse streak, the glass fiber, her own mother called it. Tom was rough, but she loved him. Why was it she was sure that Gerry did not love her husband? Yet there was the distrust, as fixed as an unjust perhaps as the suspicion of Gerry's little mysteries.

She said aloud: "This is your last day. My week begins tomorrow."

Mrs. Hardin adjusted a precise napkin before she spoke.

"I think I will keep the reins for a month this time." Her words were reflective, as though the thought were new. "I get my hand in just as I stop. I will be running out for my visit in a few weeks. It will be only fair for me to do it as long as I can."

Again the girl had a sense of subtlety. "It's all ready," Gerry's glance was winging, birdlike, over the table. Nothing had been forgotten. She gave a little sigh of elastic satisfaction. Hardin misinterpreted it.

"I ought to be able to keep a servant for her." It was like him to have forgotten the Lawrence days; he was never free of the sense of obligation to the dainty little woman who was born, he felt, for the purple. There was nothing too good for Gerry. He felt her unspoken disappointments; her deprivations. "Of course, she can have no respect for me, I'm a failure."

"Doesn't this give you an appetite?" demanded Innes heartily. "And I'm to be a lady for three more weeks?"

The remark was thoughtful. A bright flush spread over Gerry's face. She caught an allusion to her origin.

Innes saw the blush and remembered the boarding house. She could think of nothing to say. The three relatives sat down to that most uncomfortable travesty, a social meal where sociability is lacking. Innes said it had been a pleasant morning. Gerry thought it had been hot. And then there was silence again.

Innes began to tell them of her Tucson visit, when Gerry laid down her fork. "I've meant to ask you a hundred times. Did you attend to my commission in Los Angeles?"

"I forgot to tell you. I failed the town, really I did, Gerry." For there was a cloud on Gerry's pretty brow. "I could have got you the other kind, but you said you didn't want it."

"I should think not." The childish chin was lifted. "Those complicated things are always getting out of order. Besides, if I had an adjustable form, everybody'd be borrowing it."

"What are you talking about?" demanded Tom, waking up. "Who'd borrow your what, Gerry?"

"Please don't call me Gert, Tom," besought his wife plaintively. "A husband, I wanted Innes to try to get one for me in Los Angeles."

"I did try," began Innes.

"Tours is good enough for anyone. Why should you get another?" He was openly admiring the ample tulle swilling around the pink gingham.

"Don't, Tom."

Innes tried to explain the sincerity of her search. She had visited every store "which might be suspected of having a figure." She could not bring a smile to her sister's face. "There was none your size. They offered to order one from Chicago. They have to be made to order. If they are special sizes. You are not stock size, did you know that?"

"I should think not," cried Gerry, bridling. "My waist is absurdly small for the size of my hips and shoulders."

Innes wondered if it would be safe to agree with her.

"When will it be here?"

"You'll be disappointed." Innes found herself stammering. "But not for six weeks. I did not know whether to order it or not."

"And I in Los Angeles with my summer sewing all done! What good will it do me then?" The pretty eyes looked ready for childish tears.

"I know. That is, I didn't know what to do," apologized Innes. "I decided to order it as I'd found the place, and was right; there, but I made sure that I could countermand the order by telegram. So I can this very afternoon. I knew you would be disappointed. I was sorry."

"I'll need it next winter," admitted Gerry, helping herself to some of the chilled tomatoes. "I'm sure I'm much obliged to you. I hope it did not put you to much trouble."

The words raised the wall of formality again. Innes bent over her plate.

"What made you change your plans?"

"When Sam came in with your bag, he surprised me so."

"My boss kept me." Hardin's face looked coarse, roughened by his ugly passion. "Rickard, your old friend. He served a subpoena on me at the station."

"Oh," cried Gerry. "Surely, he did not do that, Tom!"

"Sure he did." Hardin's face was black with his wild mood. "I'm only an underling, a disgraced underling. He's my boss. He's going to make me remember it."

"You mustn't say such things," pointed his wife. "If it does not hurt you, if you do not care, think how I must feel."

"Oh, rot!" exclaimed Hardin. The veneer was rubbed down to the rough wood. Innes saw the coarseness her mother had complained of, the glass fiber.

"I suppose you think I like to take orders to jump at the snap of the whip?" He was deliberately beating up his anger into a froth. "Oh, sure, I do. That's a Hardin, through and through."

Again the angry blood flooded his wife's cheeks. He too, was throwing the boarding house at her.

"You did it, yourself," Gerry, with difficulty was withholding the angry tears. "I told you how it would be. You would do it."

"Oh, hell!" cried Tom, pushing back his plate.

His sister looked directly at the wire-screened door. Her view was a dusty street. Hardin got up, scrapping his chair over the board floor.

"And to keep it from me," persisted the wife. "To let me ask him to dinner. Me! I'll see myself."

Innes wished she was in the neighboring tent. Tom was laughing himself into a coarse fury.

To her dismay, Gerry burst into tears. It was killing her, the disgrace, she cried. She couldn't endure it. She couldn't stand it there; she had not the courage to go to Los Angeles, where her friends would pity her. It was crushing her. She was not a Hardin. She was sensitive; she could not justify everything. A Hardin did as he pleased, no matter what the consequences. The pretty eyes obscured, she rushed, a streaming Niobe, from the room.

The brother and sister avoided each other's eyes. Innes rose and cleared the table of the dishes. She made a loud noise with the running water in the shed, rattling the pans to drown the insistence of Gerry's sobbing.

FIRE AT OIL CITY

Loss of $40,000 Infilied in Blaze During the Morning.

By Associated Press.

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb. 19.—A fire that for half an hour threatened serious destruction in the South Side business district caused a loss of upwards of $40,000 here this morning. The Magee building, a three-story frame structure which was occupied by several small stores on the first floor and by 16 families on the upper floor, was completely gutted.

A frozen fire hydrant handicapped firemen and the flames spread so rapidly that Franklin was asked for help which was sent. Among the buildings were the Citizens Banking company and the Masonic Temple.

INFLUENZA DANGERS

An Overlooked Treatment With Potent Works Wonders in the Morning.

If you catch cold during the winter, don't let it get serious, and "Frost" is the remedy. Thousands right in your home town used it during the recent epidemic with satisfactory results. Doctors advise and prescribe it. Hospitals use it, while every drugstore in the country guarantees it. A good sized jar only costs 25 cents at any first-class drug store on the money back if it doesn't cure you.

If mothers only knew that an application at bedtime not only soothed and healed that tired, aching throat, and chest, but also insured good night's rest, they would not hesitate to keep a jar on hand at all times.

Every sufferer from cold, cough, or sore throat in any form should give Potkora a trial.

EQUILIBRIUM IS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED

Region Has Overcome Handicap in Beginning of Recession.

CONFIDENCE IS STRONG

That is the Trade Can Hold Its Own
as It Is Doing, Greater Activity Is Not Far Away; Production Lowest
Since 1914; Less Than Half Capacity

From The Weekly Courier.

Whatever difficulty the coke producers had in establishing an equilibrium between production and demand during the early days of the period of recession can be said to have been overcome. Being dependent upon conditions in the iron and steel trade, which were the first to show signs of recession, the coke industry, the coke region was naturally a lag or two behind in its measures of preparedness to meet the changing situation. It was not until ten days or so ago that the furnaces themselves appeared to have reached the downward limit, hence the restriction of coke output was necessary to be continued until the decline in iron and steel production found a stopping place.

To meet the situation the coke producers early set themselves rather heroically to the task, by cutting down
running time and blowing out ovens.
As it developed, from week to week,
that further curtailment was necessary it has been made, that of last week having marked a total decrease in weekly output of approximately 100,000 tons since the adoption of the present policy four weeks ago. The effect of these successive weekly reductions in production has been to practically clear the region of demurrage coke and stocks that were slow
to move, hence the feeling in the trade that a more accurate measure of the market demands exists now than at any previous time since the paring down process began. The "quick"
may not yet have been reached, but the operators have the courage to continue the paring process as long as necessary.

While a certain confidence has prevailed from the outset, and is even stronger today, there were times when some misgivings were experienced lest there would result a disorderly

break that would be extremely difficult to repair as well as requiring a long time for remedial measures to become operative. With certain signs in evidence—somehow intangible as yet—the conviction is becoming stronger that if the trade can hold its own for a brief period a season of much greater activity is not far away.
It is holding its own, and with increasing confidence, as the firm adherence to $5.00 as the price for standard coke to be made for future
delivery, rather convincingly attests.
By a further decrease of 25,430 tons
in the estimated production of last week the total was brought down to 200,266 tons, the lowest output since 1914 and which is considerably less than 50 per cent of the production capacity of the region with the available
ovens running on a full time schedule, and about 22 per cent less than the weekly average during 1918. It is to be remembered, however, in such comparison that the region has not run 100 per cent for more than two years, due at times to shortage of men, at other times to deficiency in transportation, and for most of the time to a combination of these kind-rances.

The estimated production for the week ending Saturday, February 15,

EASY TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin
Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels
and then absorbed into the blood
through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood
means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water
each morning before breakfast, for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimu-lates the kidneys to normal activity,
thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless
and is made from the acid of grapes
and lemon juice, combined with lithia.
Here you have a pleasant, effervescent
drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

CONDITIONAL EXTENSION

Of Time Within Which to File Income Tax Returns by Corporations.

While no general extension of time
beyond March 15 for filing income tax returns will be authorized, it is stated
by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Roper that corporations which cannot complete returns by that date will be permitted to return the estimated tax, and made a revised return within

45 days. It is the desire of the government to collect the approximate installment due next month to meet its urgent needs. Adjustments will be made when the complete returns are filed.

Corporations that actually need an extension of time are expected by Commissioner Roper to communicate
that fact to his office as soon as possible, so that he may be advised in the matter and make allowance for the extension of time.
